Swing of Things

VOLUME 16, ISSUE 2

President

President's Message—

Hi All,

Our 2022-2023 campaign launched with an enjoyable outing at Tijeras Creek in September. We got a great break on the weather, barely missing the “heat dome” of the preceding weeks. The course conditions were not what we’d ordinarily expect, in large part due to the extreme recent heat and related extra course watering.

This was the first event at which our new Silver Senior members participated, and they were well represented with eight members. In addition, we had several candidates, guests and ladies – see Verne Lusby’s participation report.

Many of us just returned from a wonderful trip to the OMNI Barton Creek Resort near Austin, Texas. We dodged another weather scare on Monday with a cool though dry round in spite of a high expectation of rain. The weather thereafter was near perfect. The three courses were spectacularly beautiful, with devilishly challenging greens. The Sunday Reception and the Thursday Awards Dinner were delightful, fostering many new and renewed friendships.

We have introduced a new Cecil Crew Champions Cup competition modeled after the FedEx Cup of the PGA Tour. This will replace our current Golfer of the Year competition. See inside for more information and our inaugural standings.

Our next local event will be on November 21st at South Hills in West Covina. This course is a jewel that we re-discovered last year. Our signup announcement went out last week. Please share that with your recent guests.

Our JOB ONE this year is increasing membership and participation – tell a friend, or several!

Wishing you all a great year...

Congratulations to the Winners!

We sent you an email recently announcing the new Cecil Crew Champions Cup. One of our goals is to incentivize your participation in as many events as possible throughout the year. In addition to earning points with low net scores, you will also earn points just for showing up. This will allow more movement in the standings as the year proceeds and should make for some interesting dynamics toward the end of the year. If this proves to be successful, we expect this will permanently replace the prior Cecil Crew Golfer of the Year Award. And we may tweak the points system in future years as we see how the race unfolds. The Board as a whole worked on this new program, but special recognition goes to Verne Lusby for leading the development.

And now, drumroll please, here are our standings after event 1 at Tijeras Creek:

- 1st place: Stephen Curry with 150 points
- 2nd place: Peter Margarita with 130 points
- 3rd place: Jim Sanders with 110 points
- 4th place: Vito Canuso with 90 points
- 5th place: Jay Risher with 70 points

And after the event at Barton Creek:

- 1st place: Stephen Curry with 440 points
- 2nd place: Jerry Braga with 400 points
- 3rd place: Kevin Dunn with 340 points
- 4th place: Richard Schwartz with 290 points
- 5th place: Don Gormly with 270 points

Monthly Membership Report

Thanks for all your help. We picked up 3 new members and have 5 candidates waiting to be evaluated. Gerry Braga is working on getting a few more of the Silver Seniors to join. To date we have signed up 29 new members from the Silver Seniors. We have not heard back from Alta Vista, Mesa Verde, Laguna Niguel or Laguna Woods. If you know the Silver Senior team members at your club, please talk to them about joining our club.

Please continue the recruiting efforts to attract more new members. We had 7 guests join us at Tijeras Creek. We are working to convert them from guests to members. Now is the time to talk up the OCSGA with all your friends and playing companions at your home courses and elsewhere. Invite them to South Hills. What have you got to lose? If they sign up, you get a free tournament next year and some good friends in the club. See the general membership incentive as described on the following page. If you have recruiting ideas, let me know. We need more members if we want to play better courses and control our costs.

If you have a potential candidate or if you just want to know about how to go about bringing a friend in, please reach out to me (Verne Lusby 714-473-2581) or Joanna (ocsga@la.twcbc.com) for assistance.

Q: I tied for first in low net for my flight in the last tournament, but then "lost in a card-off." What does that mean and how does that work?

A: We break ties with a method recommended by the USGA. One or more steps is followed until a winner is produced. Step 1 is to compare net scores for the final 9 holes (i.e. the Back Nine of the course) and if there is a winner we're done. If not, Step 2 is to compare net scores over the final 6 holes of the Back Nine. Again, if still tied, Step 3 is to compare the final 3 holes of the Back Nine. If STILL tied, Step 4 is to compare 18th hole scores. Step 5, if needed, is a coin flip.

Similar card-offs can be done for ties for 2nd or 3rd place too. Sadly, if you lose a card-off for 3rd place, you likely win no money, you just have the satisfaction of having played fairly well.

One nice feature of this card-off method is that it rewards the player who plays better toward the end of play.
